correct of my own free will,

explained , on record, during the preliminaries, that Attorney Osuna would handle this case if his schedule did not conflict with his previous engagements. (trial date was set for April 10, 2006.)

4.) Mustafa Ozsusamlar, my father, is a co-defendant in this case.

5.) On or about March 19, 2006, Attorney Osuna came to me and stated that the judge in my case had been changed because, in his words, "Judge Cote is too strict and causes alot of trouble...and the new judge would be better...."

6.) On or about March 19, 2006, I wrote to Judge Cote a letter of objection. That what my attorney had stated as a reason for changing judges wasn't good enough for me.

7.) On or about March 23, 2006, my father and I were summoned to the court house and were informed that the Honorable Judge Leisure would preside over this matter. That Judge Cote was busy with other cases. To my understanding, this was very unfair towards me because the Trial was less than a month away. I believe that this action prejudiced my case.

8.) On or about March 30, Attorney Osuna filed Motions to have Forensic Tests done on recorded conversation that took place between myself and FBI agent Melvin Bailey. (See exhibit #2, pg. 16; also exhibits 2-a and 2-b of Defendants exhibits) Clearly it can be seen that the court granted the Motion of Attorney Osuna to have forensic tests done on the recorded conversations with myself and agent Bailey.

9.) On or about March 31, 2006, Attorney Osuna visited me at the MCC jail to have me sign my signature requesting the court to pay for the forensic tests. Up until this point, I have not seen any of the evidence that this particular test has been done. Although I have requested such. Nor have any 3500 material given to me.

10.) On or about April 3, 2006, Attorney Osuna wrote a letter to Professional Audio Laboratories, to a one Mr. Paul Ginsberg, explaining what is to be done regarding the CD's. (See exhibit #3) 11.) Mr. Ginsberg responded to Attorney's Osuna's letter on April 5, 2006. (See exhibit #4)

12.) This process of verifying the authenticity of the recordings were and are very critical in this case. As Attorney Osuna stated, "Our expert could then testify that based on his expertise that he has found evidence of tampering or else the expert can tell us in my experience, I find no evidence of tampering." (See exhibit #5)

13.) On or about April 10, 2006, no forensic tests results were shown during my trial. Nor was the matter brought up. Also, No Witness List was ever produced to the court or Jury. (See exhibit #6)

14.) On or about June 2, 2006, Attorney Osuna sent a confirmation letter to the CJA office notifying them that Judge Leisure had signed an Order to pay the forensic company $2,600.00. It is believed that the forensic company did the job. That being the case, there is no evidence that the job was either verified, completed, or confirmed. Which is clear that Attorney Osuna neglected his responsibility to effectively perform his duty towards this case. (See exhibit #7)

15.) On February 23, 2007, the court brought me for sentencing but at that time, I did not have an attorney present. Thus, attorney Martine Beamon was appointed as my attorney for sentencing.

16.) On or about February 27, 2007, Attorney Beamon sent to me 3500 material. This is when I learned that Attorney Osuna had been granted the money to pay the forensic company for the tests. (See exhibit #8)

17.) On or about March 25, 2007, I contacted my brother Ramazan and friends Ihsan Askin, and requested of them to contact this forensic company to see if I could get a copy of the forensic results. Upon further investigation of this matter, the Company owner told them that they had never done any forensic analyzing in this case, dated April 2007.

18.) Mr. Paul Ginsberg made three (3) copies of a taped conversation I had with agent Bailey, off of one (1) tape/cd. According to court records, there are four (4) Cd's. Also, the one CD that Mr. Ginsberg used, although he made three (3) copies from the one CD, does not match any of the originals. (See exhibit #9) 19.) On or about April, 2006, Attorney Osuna gave me and my brothers four (4) CD's, one (1) Tape Cassette, and CD & Tape Transcripts. (See exhibits #11, #36, and #39 respectively) For the record, none of the CD's match.

20.) Sometime after finding out that there was contradictions in the recordings/transcripts, I asked of my attorney to have these discrepancies investigated. In particular, Attorney Osuna and attorney Rothman for what I deem as fraud or having known that a fraudulent action had taken place either between themselves or the FBI, or the forensic company. This was to no avail.

21.) It is my belief that an extreme prejudice happened to me when I was sent to Florence Colorado's ADX lock-down unit based upon a Disciplinary Report given to me based upon a far-fetched allegation. Particularly, in accordance with 28 FCR sub.sec. 7.12. Retaliation for Exercising Constitutional Rights. (See exhibit #12)

22.) On or about April, 2007, inmate Michael Lair drafted a Motion and letter in reference to issues surrounding my case. (See exhibit #14). At that time, I am not sure of what the contents of the Motion/Letter consisted of because of my lack of command of the English language. As this inmate told me, it was in regards to 3500 material and results from the forensics company.

23.) On or about May 9, 2007, I was given a Disciplinary Report by MDC-Brooklyn employee(s) for threatening bodily harm to another. This accusation extending from a letter that I wrote to the Judge in my case and my attorney requesting documents. Somehow, this letter was taken to be a viable threat to Judge Leisure. (See exhibit #15 & #16) Thus, based upon this incident report, I was placed in the ADX facility in Florence, Co.

24.) To that mentioned above, there still has not been any conclusive evidence that I committed any crime in regards to the judge in my case or against the United States. I aver, that if there was a crime committed in my name, then it was done by inmate Michael Lair, of which I am partially the blame, in taking advantage of my evident deficiency of the English language. (See exhibit #17)

25.) On or about May 1, 2007, court transcripts proved that the recording did not match what the Translator had been translating to me. Nor did it appear so with the court. Therefore, at that time, Attorney Rothman stated: "I spoke to Mr. Ginsberg and he did not make any forensic analyzations." Be mindful, that court transcripts does not show exactly what is said, but its still enough to prove that something transpired between some party(s) surrounding the forensic tests that the Judge ordered. As was proven, $2,600.00 was paid to the lab to carry-out the test. (See exhibits #18 & #7)

26.) On or about May 10, 2007, Attorney Rothman gave to me copies of a forensic result of "tapes" that were recorded of Agent Bailey and myself. (See exhibit #20) Attorney Rothman states in, which was given to me in letter form: "the results of the forensic examination of the tape recorded evidence in your case..." letting me know specifically that there are a Tape Recording and CD Recorded evidence in my case.

27.) Exhibit #19 proves that forensic tests were not done on three (3) of the audios. Meaning, at least three (3) tests are still pending.

If the question of innocence is hinged upon the forensic evidence provided in this case and the evidence is either tampered with or incomplete, then how can any proper sentence be fair without the facts being duly submitted and considered? Better, still, what person(s) would pay someone to do a job, having the job not complete, and doesn't complain? As can be seen in government exhibits 21, 22, 23, and 24, Judge Leisure granted the "four" (4) voice analysis forensic tests.

28.) More baffling is the fact that in a letter from Attorney Osuna, dated December 2, 2010, he states (and I quote): "the recordings in question were not tapes." (See Attorney Osuna's letter to Judge Richard J. Holwell - Exhibit #1) Yet, again, the evidence produced within this affidavit shows that tapes are indicated and shown. (See direct of Agent Bailey, defendants exhibit 33, pg. 327, where it specifically states that it was tapes that were given to Chris Petrellese, etc.)

29.) These facts prove, beyond a shadow of doubt, that the forensics were either done on another cassette or tape other than what is being verified. Thus, the reason why there are discrepancies of what is on the CD's in question as examined by Mr. Ginsberg. To point out this discrepancy:

a.) There are four (4) different CD's dated 9/18/05, which are: Bailey-3505-4 (MB); 3/28/06 date of transcript (exhibit #21);

b.) Bailey-3505-22, which is supposed to be the same as GX21-T of 4/5/06 transcript;

c.) On a FBI chart, it shows a CD titled 1D59 that started at 8:46 p.m. with no end time, nor duration. (See exhibit #24); and d.) Under exhibit #9, CD's one (1)-9/18/05, 6:55 p.m.; two (2)-9/18/05, 6:55 p.m.; and three (3)-196D-NY-290468-1NV6, 9/18/05, 6:55-8:46 p.m. It is with these particular CD's that the discrepancy takes place. Although similar, not the same. Which they should be the same because of the times and dates being of the same occasion. Also, there are two (2) other CD's on exhibit #9, reportedly from Professional Audio Labs, that have different dates (9/30/05 & 10/6/05). CD dated 9/30/05 is exactly like the transcript print-out. (See exhibit #24) CD 10/06/05 has differences in the transcript and what's actually on the CD. Whereas on the transcript it shows a total of five (5) calls. On the CD, it shows fourteen (14) calls. On the five (5) calls there are no minutes used. Any purported calls after the five has no reported conversations. Just time periods mentioned showing Agent Bailey's attempts at trying to reach me.

30.) None of the above mentioned CD's or Tapes (if you will), match in time or duration of time. Trial transcripts show that CD's measured for account number 01.01.11 and 01.03.01. No time duration. The start time for the CD is 18:55:17 and goes to 20:46:25, approximately 111 minutes, 8 seconds. (See exhibit #27) Attorney Osuna's CD starts at 6:55 p.m. and ends at 8:49 p.m., a total duration time of 114 minutes. Yet, supposedly, this is the same transcript as Agent Bailey's. (See exhibit #11, 21, and 25.)

31.) Therefore, understandably, the record shows that what was analyzed were the Tapes, not the CD's, as exhibits #20, And Trial Transcripts show. (Tr. pg. 304-exhibit #26) Based upon the above mentioned proofs, it is clear to me that Attorney Osuna lied to me when he stated that it was a digital recording, when evidence showed otherwise. Thus, proving his neglect or wanton lack of concern for the best possible outcome for his client. This was done, so I believe, to hide the fact that the Tapes were tampered with.

Government's exhibit #24 shows, what I believe to be a "Claim of Custody/Evidence Form" made out by Agent McKeever of an Original Computer Disk (E026184070). You'll notice that the date (10/6/05) and time (8:55 p) is written on the claim form, but is not written on a CD but a Cassette Tape. (See exhibit #40a) This would lead any intelligent person to question what is truly being implied by the two (2) contradicting pieces of evidence (Tape Cassette, or Computer Disk?; Also, refer to Tr. Defendant's exhibit #33, where Mr. Bailey admits that it was a Tape Recording that was placed in evidence. Not a Computer Disk.

32.) FBI surveillance CD recording starts at 6:57 p.m. and ends at 8:31 p.m.. Total duration time of 94 minutes. (See exhibit #28; FBI Agents McKeever and Linder report) Both of these reports are evidenced dated September 18, 2005, and these two voice recordings must have been tampered with by someone whom had access to them, or, switched because they do not match in originality.

33.) Trial Transcript pages 286-288 confirm that there was no chain of custody honored to protect the evidence. The proof of this claim is in the statement on direct from Bailey on pages 286-288, where he states that "...the original CD ROM is placed in an envelope. It's initialed and dated, sealed and placed into evidence." (Tr. pg. 286) Further on direct, AUSA Southwell asks Agent Bailey: "So, Agent Bailey, if you could just continue with this Government Exhibit 20." Agent Bailey answers: "Once the recording, body recording device would be downloaded, an original CD ROM--the date and the file number would be placed--it would be placed in the envelope. It would be sealed and the date that it was actually sealed, then the CD ROM, the original would be placed into evidence. There would be other copies made." (Tr. pg. 287)

AUSA Southwell asks Agent Bailey: "Agent Bailey, just so we're clear, you said it's sealed. Are you aware of how the CD came out of that envelope?" Agent Bailey responds: "Yes. On March 30, 2006, I took the envelope out of evidence and unsealed it in a different location." (Tr. pg. 288)

This statement by agent Bailey on cross begs at least two (2) questions: 1.) If it was sealed, for the obvious reasons, why would the agent unseal it? Particularly when there is no witness to verify that he did not tamper with the evidence? And 2.) Why does he make conflicting reports about the same CD, one, he claims on March 28, 2006 (NOT March, 30, 2006), and another on April 5, 2006, of the exact same recording? (See exhibit #39, copy of CD transcript of Sept. 18, 2005.)

It is clear that something took place here on one of the days in question. On whichever day that it was, who can verify that the CD's were not tampered with? Especially since the days are conflicting then on March 28, 2006, there was two (2) days, according to expert witness Agent Bailey's testimony, to tamper with the CD's (As he claims that he did not unseal the evidence until March 30, 2006. But Marks March/April 30th and 5th respectively).

The fact that Agent Bailey broke the seal of the most crucial evidence to this case and gives conflicting statements surrounding it, is cause for a rehearing, at the least, to remove any doubts accrued because of it.

34.) Another example that can be pointed out is the Recording Transcripts of Agent Bailey and myself on the occasions in question. (Sept. 18, 2005) If you were to compare defendants transcript exhibit-15 (dated 3/28/06), with Government's exhibit-21-T (dated 4/5/06), you will see many discrepancies in every page. How is this possible? (Compare pages 2-22 of recording transcripts of Agent Bailey and Osman Ozsusamlar, Sept. 18, 2005. Defendant's copy and Governments copy.)

Once again, if there are incompatibilities in what truly was said in the most damaging evidence presented to bolster the Government's case, then on what grounds should a conviction stand?

I attest that throughout this entire case, there are too many discrepancies to allow a conviction to stand on evidence that is apparently and obviously defective in the least.

35.) As well, the testimony of Attorney Winston Lee and Agent Michael Linder is completely different from what has been translated on court audio/video recording.

36.) The recorded cellphone conversations. (See exhibit #24 - 9/30/05) My cellphone records (Exhibit #30) shows all outgoing and incoming calls made on the days at question. In particular, calls from Agent Bailey lasted either one (1) minute or fourteen (14) minutes in duration. If you look at the CD's in exhibit #24, they show a duration of five (5) minutes twenty-eight (28) seconds, and six (6) minutes one (1) second. Thus, once again, not matching the recordings.

37.) The second and the third CD recordings dated 10/6/05, shows FBI Agent Bailey calling on my cell-phone fourteen (14) times.

On this note, if you look at the calls Agent Bailey made there is, yet again, discrepancies in what he saids and what actually happened. On October 6, 2005, according to records, Agent Bailey makes a call to my cellphone at 8:55 p.m. On that same date, according to records of the calls and body tape, he states that he met with me at 8:55 p.m. Also, according to Agent Bailey's statement, he talked to me via Body Tape for eight (8) minutes. How is this physically possible? That, as an issue, needs to be cleared up. Either he called me, or he talked to me face to face. (See exhibit #42)

38.) This fact pointed out above proves, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that Attorney Osuna lied to the court, on record, when he stated, "...each recording created one digital file. The Government ordered that the recording could not be tampered with as that would create a corruption in the file and I believe, and FBI Agent Bailey confirmed to exhibit 29, page 2." Simply put, the original body recording/tape, after it was downloaded into a CD ROM, was a job done by P.A.L.'s owner, whom had to delete what was originally on those recordings. Not to mentioned what was intentionally left out either by order or out of neglect. The fact being that none of the three (3) CD's match. Each of these digital files are not the same. There also was to be a Camera Recording pursuant to Section 802 but there was none created.

39.) In light of the above stated facts, Attorney Osuna either deliberately or neglectfully, damaged my defense against the false accusations. He, being qualified to handle a case of such a magnitude, fumbled in this case. He had at his disposal all pertinent information that I now have that shows inconsistencies. Whether he thought them to be unimportant or frivolous is besides the matter. He had a duty, under Strickland, to provide me with Effective Assistance of Counsel and he dreadfully failed in this case.

Another issue surrounding Attorney Osuna's mishaps is that upon agreement, we would call Zubi Gunther to the stand in my case as one who could refute certain evidence. Attorney Osuna tendered a written, signed statement from Mr. Gunther. But, for some unapparent reason, Attorney Osuna failed to call this witness--see Exhibit #35 (Zubi Gunther handwriting statement copies). Thus, prejudicing my case.

Further. Attorney Osuna created his own digital recording and admitted it as "Exhibit #1", after knowing the Court ordered that the evidence was not to be tampered with, because it would create a corruption. Why, in fact, did Attorney Osuna tamper with, in any fashion, the evidence in this case, is beyond my understanding. All I can say for sure is that it was done in direct insubordination of the Court's order. (See exhibit #1) 40.) The first and second page of "exhibit #20" states that the original CD recording was sealed and placed into evidence and that other copies would be made. Agent Bailey admitted that he took the "sealed" CD recording out of evidence, unsealed it in a different location, then signed and dated it two days prior to March 30, 2006. (Actually, March 28, 2006) Why? Because as he said on the record, "because I wanted to listen to it." Thus, the tapes ran the risk of being tampered with by Agent Bailey. And because theres that shadow of doubt, the evidence should not stand in this case.

41.) Ridvan Sezer. A co-defendant of cooperating witness Muhamed Mobrouk. There was no mention of Ridvan Sezer to the Jury in my trial. Also, there is no mention of Ridvan Sezer being used as a Turkish Translator in this case. (See exhibit #37) The question remains, why is he not on the Witness list for the Government? Although he was used as such by the Government. (See exhibit #37) Why was his name hidden? Only speculation can derive from this, but, reason would prevail to say that the reason why he wasn't used by the Government is that his credibility would have been in question. One, because he was a criminal in jail on another case with another criminal; and two, because he would have shown the inadequacies of the Government in proving a case against me.

42.) On October 2005, the FBOP was in cahoots with FBI Agent John F. Campanella, Agent Theresa K. McKeever, Agent Melvin Bailey, Agent Michael Linder, Agent Christopher Petrellese, Alexander Southwell, and Miriam Rocah, to orchestrate a hearing to use a wire device to record a conversation with me without a Court Order. (See exhibit #41)

43.) The overall damaging evidence in this matter is that, in my belief, my Attorney, the AUSA, the FBI, and the Professional Audio Laboratories were all part and parcel accountable for the fraudulent materials introduced in this case. The evidence and facts pointed out above prove this beyond a shadow of doubt. These are not just blanket accusations without any valid proofs.

I could go on and on with the discrepancies and incompatibilities in this matter but I am apprehensive in boring the Court or insulting its intelligence to see what has been put before it. And that is, that there is something drastically wrong in this case. Just a cursory glance at the evidence presented would undoubtedly prove this.

At this stage, I would respectfully request that this Honorable Court, in the face of the overwhelming evidence provided herein, grant this petitioner a new trial or acquittal on the charges mentioned above. And that in the least, grant an Evidentiary Hearing in this matter.

Respectfully Submitted,

THE FOREGOING IS TRUE AND THE BEST TO MY KNOWLEDGE AND BELIEF.

December 2, 2010

Honorable Judge Richard J. Holwell
United States District Court
Southern District of New York
500 Pearl Street
New York, NY 10007

Re: United States v. Osman Ozsusamlar, 10 CV 3455 (RJH)

Dear Judge Holwell,

I tried to file this document via ECF but I am not a party to the action. I received in the mail as per Your Honor's Order a letter sent by my former client, Osman Ozsusamlar. I did not receive any of the exhibits mentioned in the letter. Mr. Ozsusamlar alleges "money corrupted with Agent Melvin Bailey, attorney Robert Osuna, attorney Franklin Rothman, Professional Audio Labs, Inc. owner Paul Ginsberg." (sic) Essentially the former client is alleging that expert services which were paid at Court expense were in fact never delivered.

To my knowledge, there is no truth to that allegation. The recordings in question were not tapes. In a pre trial conference, the defense questioned the validity of the recordings. The prosecutors alleged the recordings were not tapes but were digital recordings which were sent directly to a hard drive. Each recording created one digital file. The Government averred that the recording could not be tampered with as that would create a corruption in the file. Stopping and starting the recordings in between the conversations would create not one file, but two separate files.

We requested the Court appoint a recordings expert for the defense and that request was granted.

According to my records, the company used was Professional Audio Labs Inc., 311 Chelsea Manor, Park Ridge, NJ 07646. I located the company through an internet search. I sent the company a copy of the CD's provided to me by the Government. I spoke to the Chief Engineer at the Company who I believe was Mr. Ginsberg. In a telephone conversation he confirmed for me that the recordings were in fact legitimate and he could find no basis to allege otherwise. He confirmed to me the accuracy of what the Government alleged (each recording created one digital file and the recording could not be edited without creating a new digital file). I conveyed the findings to my former client.

If a written report of the findings was made, it was given to the defense attorney who replaced me after I was relieved. I have had no reason to doubt that the engineer performed the services for which he billed. I was not present when the engineer made his analysis, of course. However, he did explain in detail to me the recording process and how these types of digital recordings are made. Based on my conversation with the engineer I had no reason to disbelieve him when he stated he made an analysis and found the recordings to be tamper free.

I am not aware of any statements made by Attorney Rothman or any conversations between Mr. Rothman and anyone at Professional Audio Labs. I was not privy to those conversations nor do I have knowledge if they occurred. For my part, I requested the use of an expert. The request was granted. I sent the materials to the expert who gave me his expert opinion. That opinion was not good for the defense but it was nonetheless given. That fact was conveyed to my former client. I had no reason to doubt the veracity of the expert when he gave me his expert opinion. Nor did I have reason to believe that he made no expert analysis at all and was simply lying to me completely.

Thank you.

1 MR. OSUNA: Your Honor, I spoke to an expert. The 2 cost is approximately $2600 per CD ROM. I believe that would 3 be a grand total of 4, which is a cost my client can't bear at 4 this time. We are not asking to adjourn the trial. He says he 5 has a turnaround time of one day per CD.

6 THE COURT: You have done what I hoped you would,
7 which pleases me, and as far as reimbursement to the expert I
8 will sign the CJA authorization so that we can move ahead.

9 I see, you are retained counsel. We don't have CJA
10 counsel. It makes it complicated.

11 Have we gone through with Judge Cote a consideration
12 of CJA payment?

13 MR. TURNER: We are not asking for appointment to CJA.
14 We are saying that our clients have spent their money,
15 especially Mr. Osman Ozsusamlar and he is asking the court
16 because he has no more money to help in his defense that the 17 court just pay for that expert, not -- the attorneys are 18 retained but because he does not have the money to pay for an 19 expert we are asking for the court's help.

20 THE COURT: I haven't had this happen before but it
21 may be that counsel looking into it finds that it's appropriate
22 to ask for reimbursement for the expert where the money is not 23 there. I don't want to suggest what we do unless it can be 24 done, so that counsel should talk to the prosecutor. The 25 prosecutor's office has more experience in these things than I

1 MR. OSUNA: Just to be sure, then, the government has 2 no objection to us filing the necessary affidavit to have the 3 expert paid for then, is that correct?

4 MS. ROCAH: Correct, your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Unless someone brings it to my attention
6 that it's beyond my ability to rule with respect to such
7 payments, we will proceed and it's really between the defense
8 counsel and the court, so that we will proceed with that as 9 long as I know what the costs are in advance.

10 MR. TURNER: I was handed a motion by the assistant 11 today as we walked into court. Today was the date they were 12 supposed to file the motions and I gave them the motion timely.
13 It's a 404(b) motion and I want to answer this because I feel 14 that it is extremely prejudicial to my client and I think the 15 prejudice outweighs the probative value of any prior bad act.

16 THE COURT: Do it in writing.

17 MR. TURNER: I will.

18 What was the date that your Honor gave us to respond?

19 THE COURT: Here is my order dated March 16. I will 20 read it off the record to you. It's March 29.

21 MR. TURNER: I had forgotten at the moment because I
22 don't have it with me. I do remember now.

23 I would like to ask the court if you would extend that

Re: United States v. Mustafa Ozsusamlar, et al (SI 05 Cr. 1077 PKL)
Request for Audio Expert

Dear Judge Leisure,

As was discussed in the last conference, my client requires an expert review certain of the audio recordings in this case. However, Mr. Ozsusamlar is without funds to retain an expert. The Court stated it would permit our expert to be paid from CJA funds so long as the amount were provided to the court.

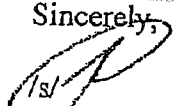

We have contacted Mr. Paul Ginsberg of Professional Audio Laboratories, Inc. (Proaudiolab.com) and he has agreed to review the recordings at an hourly rate of $325.00. ~~We expect the final cost to be no more than $4000.00.~~ Mr. Ginsberg has testified at over 1700 trials and in 28 separate Federal Districts. He has over 30 years experience and is a well-respected expert in the field of audio technology.

Immediately upon the Court's approval, we will forward the necessary recordings to Mr. Ginsberg.

I thank the Court for its consideration in this matter.

CJA funds are limited to a maximum of $4,000.00. Any additional funds will only be granted upon application.

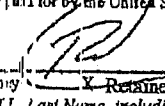

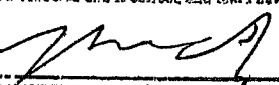

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Osuna,

Enclosed you will find the CD submitted for examination and enhancement, as well as 3 digitally enhanced CD's.

Initially I downloaded the recording into a state-of-the-art digital examination and enhancement system. I then proceeded to examine the recording for authenticity and continuity. The recording was observed to be 111 minutes in length, and recorded in stereo.

Following the examination, after considerable experimentation to maximize intelligibility, I generated a digitally enhanced file. Three enhanced CD's were then produced in WAV file format. The CD's are compatible with PC computers and laptops.

As always, for maximum intelligibility, I recommend using a pair of low-distortion headphones.

Please call if there are any questions, or if there are additional recordings to be examined or enhanced.

Sincerely,

3 THE COURT: We are ready to proceed.

4 MR. OSUNA: First of all, I would like to thank the

9 the court to assign us an expert to review both the originals
10 and the copies that we have for any evidence of tampering. At

15 THE COURT: That is certainly referred to in his

21 There are some tapes but I believe that the defendant in

As per your request, please find two (2) boxes of documents relating to your trial that was sent to us by your former attorney, Mr. Robert Osuna. We have kept a copy of these records for our own files. I have also included empty redwelds, two legal pads and a box of highlighters for your use.

As described in Mr. Osuna's letter to me, the enclosed materials constitute your complete file in his possession, including all the exhibits, audio discs and 3500 material. The trial transcripts are not enclosed here because they were not ordered by Mr. Osuna. In addition, according to Mr. Osuna, the cassette tape for your final meeting with the undercover agent was damaged, so we will have to obtain another copy from the Government.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

U.S. 28 FCR §

of an expert's services entirely to one party.¹¹⁰ In this case, an inmate claimed that compelled exposure to environmental tobacco smoke amounted to cruel and unusual punishment. See § 12.6, which deals with conditions of confinement as an Eighth Amendment claim. The district court was directed on remand to consider appointing an expert witness who could provide scientific information on health effects of environmental tobacco smoke and on concentration levels of the smoke in the prison in which the inmate was incarcerated.

§ 7.12 Retaliation for Exercising Constitutional Rights

A corrections officer warned a prisoner that if he did not become an informant, bad things would happen to him, including transfer to a less desirable part of the prison. The prisoner reported the alleged threat by a letter addressed to a United States District Judge who was presiding over pending prison litigation. As a result, the prisoner was issued a disciplinary charge for defiance. The constitutional right of access to the courts was violated by this retaliation.¹¹²

The necessary elements of a retaliation claim are: (1) a prison official acting under color of state law; and (2) intentional retaliation for the exercise of a constitutionally protected activity. The law is clearly established that a prison official may not retaliate against or harass an inmate for exercising the right of access to the courts.¹¹³ Even the prison officials candidly conceded that this was a claim of constitutional proportions that is actionable. Further, the court determined that there was no immunity defense.

To state a claim of retaliation, an inmate must allege the violation of a specific constitutional right and be prepared to establish that but for the retaliatory motive, the incident would not have occurred.¹¹³ This places a significant burden on the inmate. Mere conclusory allegations of retaliation will not withstand a summary judgment challenge.¹¹⁴ The inmate must produce direct evidence of motivation or, the more probable scenario, allege a chronology of events from which retaliation may plausibly be inferred.

The Fifth Circuit in Woods v. Smith remained fully supportive of the proposition that although prison officials must have wide latitude in the control and discipline of inmates, such latitude does not encompass conduct that infringes on an inmate's substantive constitutional rights. However, the court agreed with the Fourth Circuit when it cautioned that the prospect of endless claims of retaliation on the part of inmates would disrupt prison officials in the discharge of their most basic duties and that claims of retaliation must therefore be regarded with skepticism, lest the federal courts embroil themselves in every disciplinary act that occurs in state penal institutions.¹¹⁵

§ 7.13

LEGAL SERVICES

163

Prison officials applied a policy in a way that discriminated against inmates on the basis of the content of their legal materials. The real motive of the prison officials, who prevented third-party legal materials from being delivered, was to suppress materials that embarrassed the Department of Corrections and educated inmates on how to file their claims.¹¹⁶

§ 7.13 Restrictions on Access to the Courts

A prisoner appealed an order that dismissed his in forma pauperis complaint as "frivolous or malicious."¹¹⁷ The relief sought was considered by the court to be a "trifle" and not worthy of adjudication. A court may dismiss an in forma pauperis claim as frivolous if, after considering the contending equities, the court determines that the claim is: (1) of little or no weight, value, or importance; (2) not worthy of serious attention; or (3) trivial.¹¹⁸

In Deutsch v. United States, the allegation requested $4.20 for loss of an inmate's pens, plus litigation costs, attorney's fees, and interest. The lower court was unable to conclude that the case was legally or factually frivolous, or that it was brought for a malicious purpose, but instead determined that under the doctrine of de minimis non curat lex,¹¹⁹ the prisoner's claim, which was limited solely to monetary damages in the amount of $4.20, was encompassed by the phrase "frivolous or malicious" as used in § 1915(d).

Deutsch concluded that the plain meaning of the term "frivolous" authorized the dismissal of in forma pauperis claims that were of little or no weight, value, or importance, not worthy of serious consideration, or trivial.

The in forma pauperis statute,¹²⁰ is designed to ensure that indigent litigants have meaningful access to the federal courts.¹²¹ However, Congress was also concerned that indigent persons could abuse this cost-free access to the federal courts. As a result, Congress empowered the courts with the right to dismiss the abusive filings that could result from the absence of a cost barrier by including § 1915(d), which authorizes a court to dismiss an in forma pauperis complaint if satisfied that the action is frivolous or malicious.

According to Deutsch, to find that an in forma pauperis litigant's claim is trivial, a court must be satisfied that the record supports a finding that a reasonable paying litigant would not have filed the same claim after considering the costs of suit. A court must first find the actual amount in controversy under the claim presented and determine whether the amount in controversy is less than the expense of the court costs and filing fees. If the court so determines, then the claim may be dismissed as frivolous under § 1915(d).

A court must next determine whether the litigant has a meaningful nonmonetary interest at stake under the claim, such that service of the complaint and an allocation of the court's resources for its adjudication is warranted, despite the fact that the claim is economically trivial. If, in addition to finding that the amount of damages in controversy is less than the

Re: United States v. Osman Ozsusamlar,
S1 05 Cr. 1077 (PKL)

Dear Judge Leisure:

The Government respectfully submits this letter in response to the submission of defendant Osman Ozsusamlar's attorney, Franklin A. Rothman, Esq., dated June 28, 2007, further requesting a minimal or minor role adjustment pursuant to U.S.S.G. §3B1.2, and/or a sub-Guidelines sentence of 60 months' imprisonment, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a), as well as to the accompanying handwritten submission of Ozsusamlar ("Ozsusamlar" in this submission refers to Osman OZsusamlar unless otherwise noted), dated April 8, 2007, objecting to statements in the Pre-Sentence Report ("Def. Objections"). For the reasons that follow, Ozsusamlar is not entitled to any mitigating role adjustment or a sentence below the applicable Guideline Range. To the contrary, in light of the violent conduct for which Ozsusamlar was convicted, and Ozsusamlar's outrageous conduct since his conviction, the Court should impose a sentence above the otherwise applicable United States Sentencing Guidelines ("U.S.S.G." or "Guidelines"). The Court should impose this sentence based on (1) the factors set forth in Title 18, United States Code, Section 3553(a); (2) U.S.S.G. § 3C1.1, which imposes a sentencing enhancement for obstruction of justice; and (3) U.S.S.G. § 5K2.0, which provides for sentencing adjustments where facts exist that are not already adequately taken into account by the Guidelines.

A. Background

In a submission dated October 9, 2006 ("Def. Mem. I"), Ozsusamlar advanced essentially five arguments and issues: (1) that U.S.S.G. § 2E1.4, applicable to the murder-for-hire counts, is unconstitutional (Def. Mem. I at 4-5); (2) that two enhancements to the extortion group are incorrect (Def. Mem. I at 4); (3) that Ozsusamlar is entitled to a minimal role reduction in his offense level (Def. Mem. I at 5-8); (4) that Ozsusamlar is entitled to a reduced offense level due to "imperfect entrapment" (Def. Mem. I at 8-9); and (5) that under the Section 3553(a) factors, Osman Ozsusamlar should be sentenced to 60 months' imprisonment (Def. Mem. I at 9-12). Ozsusamlar also argued that the grouping analysis in the PSR is incorrect. (Def. Mem. I at 3-4).

The Government responded to those arguments in a submission dated November 1, 2006 ("Gov't Br."), in which the Government took issue with each of the defendant's arguments, except that it agreed that all of the counts of conviction should be grouped, resulting in an offense level of 32, with an applicable Guidelines Range of 121-151 months' imprisonment. At the time of that submission, the Government stated that the applicable Guideline Range provided for a reasonable and appropriate sentence, in light of all of the Section 3553(a) factors. (Gov't Br. at 9).

In a letter dated June 28, 2007, Ozsusamlar's most recent counsel¹ essentially reiterates the same arguments that he previously made regarding why he is entitled to a mitigating role adjustment and/or why he is entitled to a sentence of 60 months' imprisonment -- less than half the bottom of the applicable Guidelines range -- pursuant to the Section 3553(a) factors. The Government will not repeat all of the arguments set forth in its previous submission detailing why these arguments were and are completely meritless. (See Gov't Br. at 13 -20).

In addition, the Government sets forth below a summary of certain evidence which has come to light since the Government's last submission, which it intends to prove at a hearing pursuant to United States v. Fatico, 579 F.2d 707 (2d Cir. 1978), which strongly supports an upward adjustment in ¹ At a conference on July 16, 2007, Ozsusamlar elected to represent himself pro se with Mr. Rothman as "standby" counsel.

Ozsusamlar's sentence. Specifically, the Government seeks an increase in Ozsusamlar's sentence above the Sentencing Guideline Range calculated in the Pre-Sentence Report ("PSR"), based on (1) an upward departure for circumstances of a kind not adequately taken into consideration by the guidelines, pursuant to U.S.S.G. §5K2.0 (a)(2)(B); (2) an enhancement for obstructing and impeding the administration of justice, pursuant to U.S.S.G. § 3C1.1; and (3) pursuant to the factors in Title 18, United States Code, Section 3553(a).

The Government intends to introduce evidence at the Fatico hearing through the testimony of one witness, FBI Special Agent Christopher McKeogh. Agent McKeogh's testimony will show that within the past four months: (1) Ozsusamlar solicited another inmate at the MDC -- who Ozsusamlar believed was soon to be released -- to collect an extortionate loan from the Batcas (the same extortionate loan for which Ozsusamlar was convicted at trial); (2) Ozsusamlar solicited the same MDC inmate to find and kill several people who had participated in the investigation and prosecution of Ozsusamlar and his father, including several FBI agents, Assistant United States Attorneys ("AUSAs"), and other court personnel; (3) Ozsusamlar took steps to have other individuals, outside of jail, investigate Ozsusamlar's targets -- including various FBI agents and AUSAs -- and to gather personal information about those individuals, including home addresses, family members, and photographs; and (4) Ozsusamlar communicated threats against the Court and the Government in writing directly to this Court and to others.

In addition, through Special Agent McKeogh, the Government intends to offer seven exhibits, which are primarily documents written by Ozsusamlar himself within the past four months. These documents reveal Ozsusamlar's plan to seek revenge on the AUSAs and FBI Agents who prosecuted him and his attempts to continue with the extortionate attempts to collect money from the Batcas. (Copies of these documents are attached to this letter as Exhibits 1-7).²

² The Government expects to introduce testimony from Special Agent McKeogh about how the FBI obtained each of these documents. That testimony will likely include limited hearsay testimony; specifically, Special Agent McKeogh will testify about statements made by a fellow MDC inmate of Ozsusamlar's about the creation of approximately two of the seven attached documents. Such hearsay testimony is, of course, admissible at sentencing.

Re: USA v. OZSUSAMLAR
SI 05 Cr. 1077 (PKL)

Dear Mr. Soloway and Judge Leisure,

On May 3, 2006 and August 9, 2006 this Honorable Court did advised me to ~~get~~ not sent to Court any more letters. My letters are the only th^{ing} getting to truth.

I make all my arrangement to get information on my own. I tell you again this example.

At Court last week I give my Attorney my motion and objection to my PSR. It very detailed written many pages. This week, Attorney mail me an old copy of the PSR and tell me to respond to him very soon. if there are any mistakes in PSR It's dated After we met in Court! That very stupid and lazy.

I still not have my 3500 material for information up to December 30, 2006. Judge Leisure order the forensic report that Osuna not get. It clear to me Judge Leisure get money from Osuna to keep me here in prison.

I not write any more it not doing any good -

My appeal come back I get honest people then. I have friends now who are going to get information on all of you and get even for me May 13 is coming soon.

Sincerely.

175 days loss phones (5/31/07-11/21/07)
 175 days loss commissary (suspended pending 180 days clear conduct)
 27 days loss GCT (disallow when available)

VII. REASON FOR SANCTION OR ACTION TAKEN

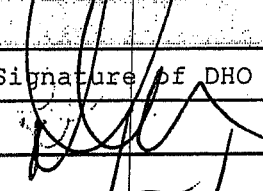

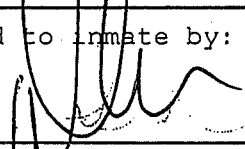

Threatening another with bodily harm as documented in this report will not be tolerated because it can result in violent confrontations which may lead to injuries to staff and inmates. This type of behavior is unacceptable and cannot be tolerated because it undermines the authority of staff and demonstrates a disregard for rules and regulations. This type of behavior disrupt the orderly operation of the institution by impeding staff's ability to perform their assigned duties, and if allowed to continue uncorrected, tends to encourage other inmates to participate in the same type of behavior.

You have been sanctioned to 30 days DS, 27 GCT, 175 days loss of visits, phones, and commissary (susp) to punish you for committing the prohibitive act code 203. To specifically address the DS time and loss of privileges, as DHO I have determined these sanctions to be warranted. These sanctions in the past have proven very effective in having individuals modify their behavior to acceptable standards. These sanctions have been imposed to deter you from future negative behavior and to again remind you that you are to abide by the rules and regulations of this institution and any BOP facility.

VIII. APPEAL RIGHTS: The inmate has been advised of the findings, specific evidence relied on, action and reasons for the action. The inmate has been advised of his right to appeal this action within 20 calendar days under the Administrative Remedy Procedure. A copy of this report has been given to the inmate.

1 defendant, what comes shining through in my discussions with 2 him, it's his feeling that the tapes that were made in
3 connection with this case that were part of the damning
4 testimony at trial, that those tapes are not authentic. His 5 concern is that your Honor had signed an order directing that 6 an analysis be done by an appropriate expert to determine
7 whether or not, in fact, the government tapes that were 8 supplied were authentic or had been somehow doctored, and what
9 concerns this defendant is that he has never seen or read
10 anything about a written report prepared by that expert.

11 I spoke to trial counsel, Mr. Osuna, last week, and I
12 spoke to Mr. Paul Ginsberg from Pro Audio Labs, which is the 13 laboratory that conducted their investigation and analysis of 14 the tapes that were played during trial. Mr. Ginsberg has 15 advised me that he will have a written report for me within the 16 next two weeks discussing the veracity, or lack thereof if that 17 should be the findings, of these tapes. And I've assured the 18 defendant that once I receive that written report, I will 19 forward it to him so that hopefully that will put that issue to 20 rest.

21 He has asked --

22 THE COURT: Have you had a chance to talk to 23 government counsel about this prior to the proceedings today?

24 MR. ROTHMAN: Yeah. We spoke before we appeared
25 before your Honor.

May 1, 2007

18

751GOZSC

1 that he has a full right of appeal on any issues that he wishes
2 you to raise, but as far as further investigation or hearings
3 with respect to the trial, that has already been conducted.

4 I'll have to hear from the government, but, of course,
5 the government will give you what their position would be in 6 front of me based on their experience. And we're not in a 7 position of educating the defendant of the procedures in 8 criminal cases, because matters have happened and occurred, and 9 we are where we are. And the case is not going to be reopened
10 for investigations and hearings. So you'll have to explain
11 that to him.

12 MR. ROTHMAN: We've discussed it, and I've tried to 13 make it clear to this defendant that the issues that he is 14 raising, whether or not his attorney was ineffective at trial,
15 didn't raise things that should have been raised, didn't bring 16 up authenticity issues with respect to the tapes, that those 17 are appellate issues, that the next step in order to get to 18 those issues would be to have him sentenced. And I think he's 19 grasping that and understands that.

20 However, he wants me to note on the record for your 21 Honor his objections to prior counsel and his feelings that 22 trial counsel was wholly ineffective for a number of reasons,
23 including the reasons I've placed on the record, namely, that 24 no forensic report was ever prepared, despite the fact that 25 your Honor signed an order authorizing a report to be prepared

May 1, 2007

1 by an audio technician. And I've advised the defendant that I
2 would place this on the record so that he understands these 3 issues are, in fact, preserved, should they become an issue for 4 appellate purposes, that he would absolutely be allowed to 5 raise them.

6 He wanted me to ask your Honor if he could be
7 transferred to MCC as opposed to MDC, because he sleeps better
8 at MCC. He's more alert and more aware of the proceedings when 9 he's well rested.

10 THE COURT: Is that something government counsel has 11 been advised of --

12 MR. ROTHMAN: Yes.

13 THE COURT: -- and considered?

14 MR. ROTHMAN: I told them today.

15 THE COURT: Oh, today?

16 MR. ROTHMAN: Yes, just today.

17 MR. SOUTHWELL: And that was in some of the pro se
18 papers, your Honor. We take no position on that. Obviously,
19 that's something for the Bureau of Prisons to deal with, and I
20 think it's not appropriate of a request for judicial 21 interference with whatever the marshals and the Bureau of 22 Prisons have to deal with.

23 THE COURT: Now, unfortunately he was talking to his
24 attorney while you were speaking. So I'll ask you to repeat
25 that.

May 1, 2007

751GOZSC

1 find out in the days ahead.

2 THE COURT: And you'll discuss it with the government
3 counsel?

4 MR. ROTHMAN: If there's anything that this defendant
5 is missing that he should have, then certainly he will get it
6 from me. I believe those are his concerns for today.

7 THE COURT: Well, of course it's very important for 8 the government to be sure that he receive the 3500 material
9 and, if not, that it will be made available to him.

10 MR. SOUTHWELL: Of course it will. I mean, it has 11 already, just to be clear, to his attorneys long ago, but if 12 there's any particular piece that he's missing, we can 13 certainly provide another copy.

14 THE COURT: Very good. Well, we'll move ahead.

15 What I said at the outset here today is important, and 16 that is that we have to move ahead so that even though 60 days
17 is a longer period than I would have given, out of respect for 18 defense counsel, to be sure that they can fully discuss these 19 matters with the defendant, it seems like it's a reasonable 20 time.

21 Does the government wish to indicate more specifically
22 dates for submission of amended sentencing reports from both 23 sides within that 60-day period? I think we should move with 24 specific dates to accomplish matters.

25 MR. SOUTHWELL: Sure. Your Honor, what I would

may 1, 2007

The stereo waveform was consistent with that of a recording made using two microphones reasonable close to one another. The left and right channels tracked each other substantially, the left slightly higher than the right, indicating that it probably was a little closer to the conversation from the way that recorder was positioned.

There was no evidence or any discontinuities.

Following examination, after some experimentation to maximize intelligibility, a digitally enhanced file was generated. Three digitally enhanced CD's were then produced.

I. SUMMARY OF OBSERVATIONS

1. The recording was made using an Eagle 4-A digital recorder.
2. The recording is a two-channel recording.
3. The duration of the recording is 111 minutes 8 seconds
4. Time of recording was 7/18/05 from 18:55:17 to 20:46:25.
5. The time/date signal, generated at the time of recording, is continuous for the duration of the recording.
6. There is no evidence of any manipulation, erasure, over-recording or editing.

J. CONCLUSIONS

Based upon the observations above, it is my opinion that the recording is continuous and reliable, and that it accurately represents the conversation at the time of recording.

Report on Tape-Recorded Evidence

United States v. Osman Ozsusamlar

Prepared by

Paul Ginsberg, President
Professional Audio Laboratories, Inc

INTRODUCTION

Professional Audio Laboratories specializes in the enhancement, forensic examination, and presentation of audio and video taped evidentiary material. The company has been in existence for 33 years with Paul Ginsberg as its president.

During the past 33 years Professional Audio Laboratories has analyzed, enhanced and supervised the courtroom presentation of thousands of taped conversations including telephone calls, consensual meetings, video-taped meetings, as well as room bugs and body recordings recorded in various formats including Nagra, KEL, cassette, micro-cassette, reel, and others designed for law enforcement surveillance.

We have been court-qualified as expert, and have rendered expert testimony on 170 occasions in 27 Federal districts as well as in Canada. We have testified for prosecution, as well as defense.

THE EXAMINATION

The examination of tape-recorded evidence consists of the following:

- a) The Physical Inspection
- b) The Aural Inspection, or Critical Review
- c) The Electronic Inspection

Each of these procedures yields information, which, when combined, provides a complete picture of events observed on the subject tapes.

A. THE PHYSICAL INSPECTION

The physical inspection consists of an examination of the subject tape or tapes in order to determine whether there has been any physical tampering or alteration of the tape or housing. In the case of a cassette or micro-cassette the physical housing is examined to ascertain whether it has been opened and reclosed. The tape itself is examined to determine glossiness, thickness, color, and dimensions, and is then compared to a factory fresh tape of the identical type.

The end leader tapes are examined to determine whether or not they are in their original condition. Also, the tape is timed on a calibrated recorder to test for missing or added tape. Also the tape is advanced slowly through its entire length to search for splices.

A magnetic developing solution is employed to ascertain track recording configuration of the recorder used in recording the tape.

B. THE AURAL EXAMINATION

During the aural examination a critical listening and review is performed on all tracks on both sides of a subject tape so as to identify areas of discontinuities, over-recordings, erasures, stops and starts, and other areas of interest.

Use is made of low-distortion playback-only machines and low-distortion headphones so that a true picture of the tape can be realized.

Speed variations are noted, as well as changes in the acoustic character of the background during conversations. Also hum and noise are noted, and are used to track continuity, if present.

During this phase of the examination notes are made as to the times of significant events, such as beginnings and endings of conversations when multiple conversations are recorded, as in the case of a wiretap tape.

In the case of a tape recorded on a stereo machine, measurements are made for each channel, and compared so as to determine operation of the microphones, and machine during recording. Also the two channels are valuable in providing additional information as to continuity of the subject recording.

C. THE ELECTRONIC EXAMINATION

The final part of the investigation is the electronic examination. This is performed using several specialized pieces of laboratory equipment. Observations are made from a spectrum analyzer, a digital waveform storage oscilloscope, and a computer using sophisticated speech analysis software. Additionally noise measurements are made at various points of a subject tape to determine whether there are erasures or over-recordings. Using the various instruments one can draw conclusions as to type of recorder used to make a recording as well as identify starts, stops, over-recordings and other events observed on a subject tape. Hum recorded simultaneously with conversation, as in the case of a telephone induction coil pickup, can be checked for continuity thus demonstrating that the subject conversation was continuous as well.

D. MATERIALS RECEIVED FOR EXAMINATION

A CD containing an audio file was received for forensic analysis from attorney ~~Robert Osuna~~.

E. PHYSICAL EXAMINATION – SUBJECT TAPES

The CD appeared to be intact with no signs of damage or tampering.

F. CRITICAL LISTENING AND REVIEW

The CD was inserted into a computer analysis and digital enhancement system for review. It contained what was recognized as a file of a recording made on a digital recorder in a proprietary format, along with a software player file, allowing playback of the recorded file.

The display on the screen was:

“Eagle 4A S/R 11.025 KHz. 9/18/05 18:55:17 20:46:25 111 min 08 sec”

The file was played using the supplied player. It was observed to be a two-channel stereo recorded segment of duration 111 minutes 8 seconds.

G. DISCUSSION OF RECORDING TYPE

The Eagle recorder is one of a family of recorders designed for law enforcement. It is a small self-contained unit that can record continuously for a number of hours in mono single channel, or stereo two-channel. It records digitally and uses no tape. The signal is picked up by miniature internal microphones, and is stored in its flash memory.

Several features are built in to the unit to insure integrity of the recordings made using the device. First, the unit stores recorded information in a proprietary file format. This means that the file cannot be played, or edited using a standard sound editing software program, unlike a WAV or MP3 file.

In fact, the only way to play an Eagle file is to use the manufacturer's supplied player software. It allows only playing of the entire file, stopping, starting, rewind and fast-forward.

Also, there is an internal clock in the recorder that generates a real-time date and time signal that is interwoven into the recorded file. During ~~playback using a PC or laptop computer, this time signal can be observed to~~ be incrementing, displaying the exact date and time of the recording, changing as the recording plays back.

The recorder has two controls, "start" and "stop". While recording, if the recorder is stopped, the file ends. When the recorder is turned on again subsequently, the recorder generates a new file. It does not append to an existing file.

The result is that, during playback, if one observes a file recorded on an Eagle recorder, that recording represents one continuous recording.

H. ELECTRONIC EXAMINATION AND ENHANCEMENT SUBJECT RECORDING

The file was downloaded into a forensic examination system. It was observed to be a stereo file of duration 111 minutes 8 seconds.

The stereo waveform of the file was reviewed, along with a spectrogram picture of the frequencies present in the recording. See waveform and spectrogram plots attached.

The machine display "S/R 11.025 kHz" means that a digital sampling rate of 11,025 cycles per second was used in order to change the sound into a digital form for storage. This allows an upper frequency of approximately 5,500 cycles per second.

The observed frequency spectrogram was consistent with a recording made using these parameters.

The stereo waveform was consistent with that of a recording made using two microphones reasonable close to one another. The left and right channels tracked each other substantially, the left slightly higher than the right, indicating that it probably was a little closer to the conversation from the way that recorder was positioned.

There was no evidence or any discontinuities.

Following examination, after some experimentation to maximize intelligibility, a digitally enhanced file was generated. Three digitally enhanced CD's were then produced.

I. SUMMARY OF OBSERVATIONS

1. The recording was made using an Eagle 4-A digital recorder.
2. The recording is a two-channel recording.
3. The duration of the recording is 111 minutes 8 seconds
4. Time of recording was 7/18/05 from 18:55:17 to 20:46:25.
5. The time/date signal, generated at the time of recording, is continuous for the duration of the recording.
6. There is no evidence of any manipulation, erasure, over-recording or editing.

J. CONCLUSIONS

Based upon the observations above, it is my opinion that the recording is continuous and reliable, and that it accurately represents the conversation at the time of recording.
